

Faculty of Health and Behavioural Science

Early Career Research Excellence (ECRE)

2022 Application Guidelines

Value: $3000 (2 maximum)

The Early Career Research Excellence Award recognises an outstanding research contribution made by a researcher from HaBS who was awarded their PhD within the last eight years. Taking into account that the applicant is early in their career, the award recipient will have made a contribution in their field of research.

Eligibility:

- Academic staff
- Awarded a PhD in the last eight years
- Holding at least a 0.5 FTE paid appointment within the Faculty of Health and Behavioural Sciences. The position must be a continuing position for at least three years (may include a series of short appointments).

Applicants should demonstrate:

- Outstanding commitment to a research career
- Potential to make a major contribution in a field of research.

The application form and a two-page CV must be attached to the application as a Word document.