

Faculty of Health and Behavioural Science

Research Translation

2022 Application Guidelines

Value: $3000

The Research Translation Award recognises the efforts of a researcher from HaBS who has ensured that their research is translated into benefits for the broader community beyond academia. The award recipient will have demonstrated impact, innovation, and initiative in developing a new product or service or making changes to practice or policy, based on research outcomes.

Eligibility:

- Academic staff
- Holding at least a 0.5 FTE paid appointment within the Faculty of Health and Behavioural Sciences. The position must be a continuing position or for at least three years (may include a series of short appointments).

Applicants should demonstrate:

- Outstanding commitment to a research career
- Commitment to ensuring the results of their research are producing benefits for the wider community

The completed application form and a two-page CV must be attached to the application, as a Word document.
